Shenfield Sixth Form

Your Form Tutor

If you have concerns about your welfare and your work is suffering as a result, talk to your Tutor. Tutors get to know you well through years 12 and 13 and have lots of experience of working with all types of problems that students may face. They have a key role in supporting your well-being in Sixth Form and they can really help. Just speak to/email them to book a one-to-one conversation.

Sixth Form Team

If you would rather talk to someone else, the Sixth Form Team are ready to help.

Pastoral Managers are here to make sure students feel safe and have a positive Sixth Form experience. They are always available for a one to one conversation and can liaise with teachers and tutors. Here is the list of the staff and where to find them:

Mrs Downey– Pastoral Manager 6th form (i57)

Mr Macdonald– Deputy Head of Sixth Form (i55) and Head of Year 12 (i55)

Mr Bishop –Head of year 13

Mr Cooke – Head of Sixth Form (Sixth Form main office: i55)

Mrs Dunn – Sixth Form Administrator (i55)

Health & Well-being Staff:

Miss Tyler – First Aid Officer

And the 6th form team

School Nurse and Drop-ins

If students require further information about sexual health \(C-Cards\) please contact Miss Tyler in First Aid or Mrs Downey in Sixth Form.

Your School First aider Miss Tyler, is in school to help you. She is in the Medical Room on the ground floor of the South Hall – opposite the swimming pool entrance. She supports students with any physical and emotional needs and her advice is confidential and without embarrassment. She can help refer you to your GP, other local services, and the School Counsellor if necessary. She provides emergency first aid and treatment for accidents and injuries. If students feel unwell during the school day, they should see go to first aid who will advise and if necessary authorise going home.

The local school community nurse attends the school premises for a confidential drop in session –
Tuesdays (every other week) in room P18.
Between 1.20pm and 2.20 pm

How can she help?

She can give on-going support with:

Physical and emotional problems
Self-Harm
Smoking
C-Cards
Asthma

Eating Disorders
Substance abuse
Sexual health services
Diabetes
Epilepsy

Mentoring /Counselling

If at any stage during Sixth Form students want access to Mentoring/counselling, in the first instance your Pastoral Manager is the person to speak to. They are here to support your well-being and safety in school and along with your Form Tutor they will advise and guide you. There can be many reasons why you might want to ask for counselling: exam stress, anxiety, drug or alcohol problems, depression, family/parental difficulties, relationships, sexuality, self-harm, illness, etc.

Pastoral Manager 6th Form – Mrs Downey

At Shenfield High School we are fortunate to have the support of experienced impartial advisers who are available in Sixth Form each week to listen to and advise students. They are used to dealing with issues affecting young people and can offer private and confidential non-judgmental support when it is needed. They can refer students to further Mentoring/counselling services if necessary.

If you wish to speak to:

Mrs F Mason on a Wednesday. Please ask your Pastoral Manager to arrange mentoring for you.

Counselling can be organised via the school or via appropriate outside agencies.

Young people who would prefer counselling inside of school should still speak to their Pastoral Manager who can support with making a referral. Services are limited and can take time to arrange. Often going to your own GP is the fastest and most effective route. The school can also make specialist referrals to Emotional and Wellbeing and Mental Health Services for under 18's, to HBBS for bereavement and to SERRIC for counselling related to sexual assault or sexual violence.

For in-school mentoring, if a young person is at risk of harm, the information will be passed onto one of the Designated Safeguarding Leads, and our SG and CP Policy will be followed accordingly.

Counselling/ Support Outside

There are charities like ChildLine and the Samaritans who can offer immediate and confidential support as well as guiding you where you can receive further help. Counselling can also be accessed at any time online – just go to KOOH.COM and many others – totally confidential to you.

YoungMinds Crisis Messenger

If you are a young person experiencing a mental health crisis, you can text the YoungMinds Crisis Messenger for free, 24/7 support.

If you decide to access external counselling – please still inform your Pastoral Manger

About ChildLine

ChildLine is a private and confidential service for children and young people up to the age of nineteen. You can contact a ChildLine counsellor about anything - no problem is too big or too small. Call free on 0800 1111, have a 1-2-1 chat online or send an email.

Are calls free from mobiles?

Here are the mobile phone companies who have told us that calls to ChildLine are free: 3 (Three), BT Mobile, EE, O2, Orange, T Mobile, Virgin and Vodafone.

IF YOU'RE UNDER 18

Anyone can contact Samaritans and all information stays completely between us, no matter how old you are.

Samaritans' primary responsibility is to you, not your parents or guardian.

If i'm under 18, how can you help me?

A lot of things can make us feel bad, for example:

- how we look
- problems at school or college
- how people are treating us
- worries about exams or money

or something else... You might feel you can't talk to anyone, or you don't want to worry your friends or family.

Call SAMARITANS

No names. No pressure. No judgement.
We're here for you. Any time.

Concerned about the safety or well-being of a young person?

Talk to one of school's Designated Safeguarding Leads: Mr Bolitho and Mrs Nelson

You could also call the Essex County Council Children and Young People Service and provide anonymous information if you feel that a child is at real risk of significant harm: 0345 603 7627.

You can get a lot of online information about the following safeguarding topics from ESCB (Essex Safeguarding Children Board) – online safety, including sexting, Child Exploitation (drugs and sexual), radicalisation and extremism, female genital mutilation, forced marriage, honour based crimes and child abuse. #tellsomeone, #saysomething.

If you feel that you or someone you know is at risk in the community and you do not want to talk to your family or someone at school, you can call Essex police direct by calling 101. Again they will take anonymous information.

If you have information about a crime that has been or may be committed, then call Crime Stoppers 0800 555 111 – again this information can be passed on anonymously.

If you or someone you know has suffered from a sexual assault you can call SYNERGY Essex/Essex Rape Crisis who will give you advice and support and YOUR choices about next steps – 0300 003 7777. www.synergyessex.org.uk to find local support. Or you can also self-refer to SARC who provide an alternative option for people who do not want to, or are undecided, whether to report an assault to the police. Call Essex Sarc on 01277 240620 located in Brentwood at Oakwood Place, Crescent drive CM15 8DR

If you are worried about any online activity you can report it online anonymously via CEOPs.

Additional:

If you or your family need help with housing or the benefits system you can call Peabody South East who offer floating support with homelessness, housing or debt at www.peabody.co.uk or call 0800 288 8883

Careers Advice

Weekly updated careers information is in “Weekly Notices” and sent to tutors to discuss during form time. This covers Apprenticeship Information, Open Days, Careers Events, Work Experience, Job Opportunities etc...

Shenfield High School has Careers Advice in the library which offers impartial careers information advice and guidance in a private and confidential area.

If you would like to speak to a Careers Advisor, please ask your form tutor.

Mindfulness

Contact your Pastoral Manager to find out more about Mindfulness.

How do people learn mindfulness?

Mindfulness is always learned in a highly practical way, through experience rather than talk. We gradually learn to direct our attention in a more focused way to whatever is actually happening - whether it be our breathing, the sensations in our body, thoughts and feelings, or everyday activities such as walking and eating.

What Is Mindfulness?

Mindfulness is all about learning to direct our attention to our experience as it unfolds, moment by moment, with open-minded curiosity and acceptance. Rather than worrying about what has happened or might happen, it trains us to respond skilfully to whatever is happening right now, be that good or bad.

Self-harm

What is self-harm? | Talking about mental health - Episode 15 - YouTube

Self-harm is when an individual physically harms themselves as a way of dealing with very difficult feelings, painful memories or overwhelming situations and experiences. Some people have described self-harm as a way to:

- Express something that is hard to put into words
- Turn invisible thoughts or feelings into something visible
- Change emotional pain into physical pain
- Reduce overwhelming emotional feelings or thoughts
- Have a sense of being in control, and of having something to rely on
- Escape traumatic memories
- Punish themselves for their feelings and experiences
- Stop feeling numb, disconnected or dissociated (see dissociation and dissociative disorders)
- Express suicidal feelings and thoughts without taking their own life.

3 Steps to Prevent Suicide

SEE · SAY · SIGNPOST

© This leaflet has been produced as part of the work of the Cym Taf Morgannwg Suicide and Self Harm Sub-Group. We would like to thank all those who contributed to creating the leaflet, especially the Together for Mental Health Service User Representatives and Bagsy.

All details are correct at date of being published March 2020

SEE

Recognise possible signs

- ALCOHOL & DRUGS: Bingeing, increased use and mixing drugs and alcohol can significantly increase suicidal behaviour. Stock piling medication.
- BEHAVIOUR: Withdrawing from social situations and/or social media. Making plans, wills, legal arrangements or giving possessions away. Being more angry or anxious than usual, sleeping too little or too much.
- FEELINGS: Self-loathing, self hatred, guilt or shame, lost hope or purpose.
- LANGUAGE: Phrases such as "I wish I hadn't been born," "If I see you again..." "I'd be better off dead." "Everyone would be better off without me" "I can't take much more", etc.
- LIFE CHANGES: Relationship breakdown, job loss, financial problems like gambling or debts, mid-life and deteriorating health issues, sexual and gender issues, bereavement particularly by suicidal death.

SAY

Have the courage to ask

- Talking save lives. Encourage them to talk to you or their GP or signpost them to helplines for people in emotional distress.
- Ask how they are feeling and if they are suicidal. Try again if they don't open up first time - be patient. If someone is feeling low and isolated they may not know who they can talk to openly about it.
- Listen and pay attention, without interrupting or judging. You don't have to solve their problems but, if you feel you can, offer support.
- Take care of yourself, supporting someone in distress can be difficult and stressful. Helplines are there for anyone in need.

IF SOMEONE IS IN NEED OF IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ASSISTANCE CALL 999

Suicide is a desperate attempt to escape from unbearable emotional pain or suffering. For every suicide, there are many more people struggling with suicidal thoughts. Patients under the care of their local crisis team should contact them directly. You can ask the Police to do a welfare check if they go missing.

If someone is talking about suicide always take it seriously.

SIGNPOST

If you can, offer to stay or accompany them so they feel supported.

Give guidance and support

How can you tell if someone has an eating disorder?

You cannot tell if someone has an eating disorder just by looking at them. While it is true that some sufferers of anorexia are severely emaciated, some are not, and the majority of eating disorder sufferers do not have anorexia. Those suffering from bulimia may be within the normal weight range or may be overweight, while those with binge eating disorder are often overweight.

How should people with eating disorders seek help?

The first port of call for a sufferer should always be their making an appointment with their GP. Helplines are available for support and information, and can give people suggestions for how to approach their doctor. After seeking advice from your GP, it can be useful to search for specific eating disorder organisations that are near you.

Synergy offer help to anyone who has been sexually abused or raped, or who has been affected by sexual violence at any time in their lives. It is an accepted fact that sexual assault/violence often is not repeated immediately, but the effects last a lifetime. SYNERGY and their counselling partners, SERRIC, can help.

All their staff and volunteers are trained to provide specialist support. They offer support from accessible outreach sites across Essex and have dedicated spaces for women and girls as we recognise that many individuals need designated space to feel safe and regain control of their lives.

They offer an Essex wide service providing specialist emotional support, counselling, advocacy and other services to support adults, children, young people, family and their supporters.

Gangs

LETS TALK ABOUT GANGS

"Every day I am hearing about young people being killed...I am really scared."

"We ain't a gang...they are just my friends..."

Violent crime appears to be on the increase yet again. Every day seems to bring with it another news story of a knife, gun or gang related crime. We are living in a time where crimes are getting more and more serious and at the same time the age of young people becoming involved appears to be getting younger.

This leaflet exists to give you the parent, carer or guardian the basic facts on what gangs are, possible signs to look for if you are worried about your child and where to go if you need advice.

What do we mean by 'Gangs'?

Thanks to the media it seems everyone has their own idea of what they mean by 'Gangs'. Older generations tend to think of mobster type gangs such as the Krays. Some people think of the American styled gangs which are huge in number, entrenched in rap lyrics, come from the 'slums' or wear bandanas in specific colours and operate in certain neighbourhoods.

In the UK our situation is different, our gun laws, our areas of poverty and most importantly our gang sizes and numbers are much smaller by comparison.

Gangs or Co-offending Groups?

When we talk about gangs we essentially mean groups which carry out criminal acts together. These offences tend range from theft or robbery to drug dealing and distribution all the way up to acts of Serious Youth Violence which covers things such as weapon enabled crime, rape and murder.

What are the odds of my child becoming involved?

Even though there are tragedies of young lives lost through gangs or serious youth violence the reality is it is just a small fraction of young people that end up becoming involved. However, we live in an age where young people are more connected now than ever before. Young people have always wanted to be liked and admired by their friends. The use and shareability of social media means a young person can be hyped up or discredited in an instant. At the same time, various co-offending groups use the same channels to promote and glamourise their activity so that they can recruit others. It's not just boys, girls can get involved too.

Groups involved in criminality live by a 'No snitching code'. They tend not to talk about their activities particularly with adults or those in authority. This makes your job as a parent or guardian much harder.

Serious Crime/Gangs

The school also works with a local agency called Building Lives, whose key workers understand what it is like to be a young person involved in serious crime and what you can do to get out of it.

Home Help and Carers

We don't think anyone in our community should have to face going hungry. That's why we provide three days' nutritionally balanced emergency food and support to local people who are referred to us in crisis. We are part of a nationwide network of foodbanks.

As part of the community, Shenfield High School can help if your family is in crisis; speak to your Pastoral Manager about how you can get a Voucher which can be exchanged at the distribution centre. Food items are distributed in supermarket carrier bags to preserve anonymity.

In addition, Daily Bread Food Café is completely free and does not require foodbank vouchers. It is held at St Peters Church open between 10-12am Mon-Sat. Call 01277 262864.
